

Stoneway Capabilities

As one of the top electrical distributors in the nation, Stoneway Electric Supply is uniquely qualified to meet the needs of any project. Through all that we offer, we hold fast to the principles that have guided our commitment and growth: listen to the customer, make commitments that can be met, and make it easy to do business.

One Stoneway

Each branch in our network works together to offer you the best possible customer experience. We share inventory and resources across our network, which means if your local branch doesn't have what you need, we can get it to you quickly from another location. This also means you don't have to call around to see what's available — one call to your Stoneway branch is all it takes. We are one brand with one mission: to get you what you need to get the job done.

Leverage Our Expertise

Our people make all the difference. We have expertise across numerous project types and industries to ensure we can support your needs — from finding the right products to solving challenges you face. Plus, we offer a variety of training opportunities, including CEUs to ensure your training requirements stay up to date.

Modern Problems, Modern Solutions

Our brand-new website is built for the way you buy today. Shop for the products you need, check real-time inventory, manage your account, and more. Plus, stay up to date with new product releases, promotions, and local events. Simply put, the new stoneway.com was designed to make your life easier!
